Senior Member of the Technical Staff

Cassie Gale is a Senior Member of the Technical Staff in the Center for Global Security and Cooperation at Sandia National Laboratories. Cassie is Operations Manager of the Cooperative Monitoring Center (CMC) and Co-Leads the CMC's Western Hemisphere portfolio.

As Operations Manager for the CMC, Cassie manages the Distinguished and Seminar Speakers Series, hosting security scholars and practitioners across a wide range of security topics, including nuclear nonproliferation, WMD security, regional security, arms control, and many others.

In her role as Western Hemisphere Co-Lead, Cassie focuses on climate security issues—particularly on preventing the use of environmental modification and geoengineering technologies for nonpeaceful purposes, applying Sandia's treaty monitoring and verification expertise to this emerging threat space.

Cassie also supports implementation of the Voluntary Offer Agreement—between the United States and the International Atomic Energy Agency—at U.S. nuclear facilities. She also provides strategic support to the Safeguards Concepts and Approaches portfolio under the Office of International Safeguards (DOE/NNSA/NA-241).

Cassie joined Sandia in 2014 to support its International Nuclear Security and Global Nuclear Security and Nonproliferation organizations—a role she held from 2014 to 2021.

Cassie holds B.B.A and M.B.A. degrees in Operations Management from the University of New Mexico. She is a Lean Six Sigma Black Belt certified by Purdue University. She is also a certified Project Management Professional (PMP).
